Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Wednesday 21 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Overnight frost possible. Dry with long sunny spells Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Dry and clear for much of the evening and overnight. With light winds a touch of frost may develop, along with a few mist or fog patches. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Thursday:
Bright and dry with long sunny spells, although the north coast sees more in the way of cloud in afternoon. Feeling warm in the sunshine with light winds. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Settled, dry conditions largely continuing with light winds and plenty of sunshine. Still the risk of overnight frosts, especially in rural parts.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.